

Phonetic and phonological variation in contemporary English:
Experience/ Experimentation

Tuesday, June 4

8h30-9h15 Welcoming of the participants

9h15-9h30 Opening speeches

9h30-11h Oral session 1 IPCE-IPAC

9h30 C. Exare (ESPE Universit  Paris Est Cr teil), N. Herry-B nit (Universit  Paris Nanterre) & S. Lopez (Northwestern Polytechnical University, Xi n, Chine)

Variation in the production of h in French and Chinese learners of English: The IPCE-IPAC project.

10h K. Edensor Costille (Universit  de Caen) & A. Tortel (Aix-Marseille Universit ),
French comprehension of British & Irish regional varieties.

10h30 P. Mairano, C. Bouzon, M. Capliez (Universit  de Lille),
Acoustic distances and vowel classification scores as metrics of L2 pronunciation.

11h-11h30 Coffee break

11h30-12h30 Oral session 2

11h30 N. Abbas Rizvi Syed (Pakistan),
Emergence of a new allophonic contrast in Pak-English.

12h N. Niedzielski (Rice University, Houston, U.S.),
Variation and perception of English in Houston.

12h30-14h Lunch

14h-15h Invited speaker

Dominic Watt (University of York)

The best TUULS for the job: How much does regional accent matter in Automatic Speaker Recognition?

15h-15h30 Coffee break

15h30-17h Oral session 3

15h30 M. Amand (Université Paris Diderot),

Variation in Newcastle English FACE, GOAT, PRICE and MOUTH in two sub-corpora of the DECTE: an experimenting comparability with real and apparent-time approaches.

16h A. Guyot Talbot & E. Ferragne (Université Paris Diderot),

Perceptual and acoustic aspects of the stress patterns of two-syllable noun-verb pairs.

16h30 C. Meunier & A. Ghio (Aix-Marseille Université),

Are English vowels less distinctive than French ones? A measurement of vowel dispersion in different speech contexts.

17h 15 PAC meeting

20h Dinner

Wednesday, June 5

9h15-9h30 Presentation of the new PAC web site (S. Navarro, H. Chatellier & C. Viollain)

9h30-11h Oral session 4 Prosody

9h30 J. Bongiorno & S. Herment (Aix-Marseille Université),

PAC Prosody : An extension of the original PAC protocol.

10h E. Cauvin (Université Paris Diderot),

New paradigms to experiment on English prosody with annotation systems and analysis tools drawn from experience.

10h30 I. Brulard (Université Toulouse Jean Jaurès),

The role of the tonic syllable and the intonation group in the code switching patterns of a bilingual French-English child.

11h-11h30 Coffee break

11h30-12h30 Oral session 5 Prosody

11h30 M. Kul (Adam Mickiewicz University, Pologne),

Consonantal processes in the Buckeye corpus.

12h Q. Dabouis (Université de Clermont Auvergne) & J-M. Fournier (Université de Tours),

On pretonic vowel reduction in English.

12h30-14h Lunch

14h-15h Invited speaker

Emmanuel Ferragne (Université Paris Diderot)

Phonetics and artificial intelligence : ready for the paradigm shift?

15h-16h30 Poster session & coffee

J. Dallinges (Aix-Marseille Université),

Exploring the relationship between production and perception in English Canadian linguistic identity.

S. Herment, A. Tortel & G. Turcsan (Aix-Marseille Université),

Examples of teaching with PAC.

S. Navarro (Université Paris Diderot),

The NORTH-FORCE split in the Boston corpus.

L. Pillière (Aix-Marseille Université),

Social variation in literary contexts .

A. Przewozny (Université Toulouse Jean Jaurès),

The PAC programme, in principle and practice.

A. Rahal (University of Gafsa, Tunisia),

Spoken English in Tunisia: Preliminary Results of a New Variety.

A. Théveniaut (Aix-Marseille Université),

The intonation in the Irish variety of the Gaeltacht of Cois Fhairrge (County Galway).

N. Herry-Bénit (Université Paris Nanterre), N. Roussi (Université Plovdiv, Bulgarie) & I. Trifu

Dejeu (Université Paris Nanterre), A field experimentation of 'r-sounds' and rhoticity in English in the IPCE-IPAC corpus: a perceptive and acoustic evaluation.

16h30-17h30 Oral session 6 LVTI

16h30 L. Fabre & A. Przewozny (Université Toulouse Jean Jaurès),

Gender in the light of a PAC-LVTI Australian transgender speaker: methodological and theoretical issues.

17h J. Rouaud (Université Toulouse Jean Jaurès),

Studying cross-language influence in bilingual contexts: the case of PAC-LVTI[Montreal].

17h30- Final discussion